From The President

Another month has flown by. Jo Lene I continue to pack, donate and discard as we work on getting our house ready for sale. I thought a 30 yard roll-off container would be more than enough for discards but we are on number two container.

We missed attending the Wisconsin Rapids Reunion. An Iowa school classmate from 50 years ago and former neighbor stopped by the Reunion in hopes of seeing us. She (Dot) and her husband happened to ask Karen Sukkert if she knew us and of course Karen told them she was our neighbor in Sussex. Dot and her husband live in Papillion, NE and belong to the Model A club in their area.

The August "Wheeling The A" included an invitation from the Great Lake A's to the December MAFCA Membership Meeting. You can obtain more information and registration forms in the July-August issue of "The Restorer" or go the www.mafca.com where there is a section devoted to the meeting.

Visit the MAFCA website and you will note that on the opening page there is a request for a photo of your "A". Carl, our webmaster, would like to have a picture of your "A" to put on our website member photo roster.

Carl has many great photos of our tours and events posted. Nice photos from the Congregational Home show and the Harley Davidson Museum show. The newsletters from January 2007 to the present are also on the web. Take a look and you will enjoy "Wheeling The A" in color. www.model-a-wis.com

Another reminder to send Carl your email address so he can let you know about events, changes in the calendar, etc. We would also like to include all your email addresses in the upcoming Roster for 2010.

Hope to see many of you soon if I can finish packing.

Marty

NEW PISTON

By EGGE Machine Company

A new modern-design piston for those who drive their Model A's

Few engines have quite the same historical presence as the venerable Model A four cylinder. It was used in just about everything Ford produced between 1928 and 1932 including Model A and B cars, light trucks, and AA big trucks. It had its debut in the early 1928 AR series Model A's and was renewed for the later 1928 introduction of the conventional Model A series. The Model B engines were essentially upgraded Model A engines where the oiling system was redesigned from what was a pump-assisted gravity feed arrangement to one with pressure-fed main bearings. This little 205 cube four-banger was a tough, reliable, and efficient (for its time) engine that also saw extensive use in industrial, farm equipment, and stationary power units into the early 1950's. Along the way it also became the darling of many a dirt-track racer and hot rodder.

Traditionally, one of the more intriguing and frustrating aspects of these engines – and one that kept innovative engine builders thinking and working – has been what to do about pistons. While most engines had cast aluminum full-skirt pistons, there were a few made with cast iron units. I suspect that these were primarily used in the heavier truck and industrial applications. They were durable if anything but performance-enhancing. In addition, all OEM type pistons used a 1/8-1/8-5/32 ring arrangement that was suitable for its vintage but not at all efficient. Wider rings mean more wear and more friction, resulting in a loss of power. Hot rodders tried any number of combinations and many ended up having custom pistons made with more modern ring packs.

In response to customer requests, Egge Machine Company introduced their Model # E-1104 piston that incorporates modern technology with accommodations for all the original parts and applications. This includes standard piston pin heights for proper deck clearances, bore sizes, and pin sizes so the new pistons can be used with all original parts. The new piston retains the original T-slot, full-skirt design of the original parts. T-slots are used to compensate for unequal heat expansion often found in these early engines. The E-1104's are made from F-132 high silicone aluminum alloy, cast using permanent molds, and precision machined at Egge's facilities. They maintain the original piston weights and dimensions so major alterations in balancing are not required. In many ways they are simply a high-quality modern replacement piston engineered to make using them as trouble-free as possible.

However, one major improvement is incorporated in this newer design that replaces the older Egge part E-122 pistons as well as OEM and other replacement pistons offered by other manufacturers over the years – the ring sizes.

“The new pistons use a modern 5/64-5/64-3/16 ring package.”

As rodders and racers know, one way to add efficiency, gain performance, and reduce wear is to use a thinner ring set and to use moly top rings. Many have had custom pistons made simply to accommodate this, even when it meant considerable additional parts costs and longer waiting periods.

Like its predecessor E122, the new E-1104 Egge pistons are a flat top cast design meant to be a direct replacement without modification to your original engine, but employing modern manufacturing and machining techniques. The big difference, seen here, is the modern ring configuration that lowers costs, increases durability, and increases performance by eliminating excessive friction losses.

The E-1104 pistons are directional (they have a front and rear) because they continue the use of the T-slots. The slots are machined into the skirts to allow the pistons to compensate for uneven heat expansion that has been a traditional concern in these engines. Notice the precision machine work – you’ll find them very accurately made and sets are typically very close to balanced sets right out of the box.

Using the new E-1104 pistons, now a stocked item at Egge, means that you can have the updates without the excessive costs. The pistons are priced at just $118.15 (set of 4) including the wrist pins, so you side-step the cost of a custom set. In addition, the rings are now considerably less expensive, widely available, and include off-the-shelf moly rings. They are, in fact, the same rings used in small-block Chevrolets. This means that the high volume production and extensive development focused on the SBC engines makes your project that much less expensive and more reliable.

If this sparks your interest or you need more information about this or any other vintage Ford engine parts, remember that Egge stocks everything from individual parts to full engine kits - making it a valuable source for any serious builder.

Egge specializes in vintage engine parts so you can get anything you need from a single lifter or gasket to a complete engine kit configured to your specific engine and preferences. They even offer babbiting to make life easier for the vintage Ford builder.

July Tour to Hartford Automotive Museum

By Betsy & Gene Taurman

It was a light hearted tour with bright blue sky, sunny, light breezes and lots of laughing. The tour was a zig zag through country roads from Mequon to Hartford and ending in Richfield. There were panoramas of Wisconsin's fields and hills including one view of the church on Holy Hill from miles away across the green farm land.

The Kettle Moraine Hills challenged the A's brakes and the downhill curves reminded us of the A's cornering limits. Some of the roads were reminiscent of last month's Milwaukee tour, jolting our cars and spines for miles on end.

The museum is a story of the days when Wisconsin was in the race to be a home for the auto industry. Hartford's own car, the Kissell was featured. The depression and a cancelled order for taxicabs were the last straws for the Wisconsin venture into the ever evolving car industry.

Among the many other cars a 1948 Tucker, Crosley, Messerschmitt, tiny Subaru van no bigger than the Crosley, a unique Citroen /Maserati. There were other things; steam engines and a massive model railroad display which was a duplicate of all Lionel had to sell in 1950, outboard motors and lawn equipment.

The return of Jerry Flynn and his always friendly smile was a great addition to the tour. It felt good to have him back with us. We lost one car; Bea Olson's "A" lost fluid all over the McDonalds parking lot and had to be towed home.

Attendance was 40, 3 modern cars and 18 A's.

All in all it was just a nice day with friends in the Wisconsin country side.

Harley Museum Car Show

By Sally Neuenschwander

Cars on Canal Tuesday, July 28, was a success. The weather was almost perfect, we had a prime spot to showcase the A's and to view the other cars coming and going.

The general public votes on the best car in attendance and Tony's Mail Truck won the "People's Choice Award". Congratulations Tony! Bob Schaefer's "A" got a lot of attention because of the bullet holes and posters from the movie "Public Enemies".

We also had some guests join us. Marilyn Brojanac's mother's neighbor came down with his friend that has a five window hot rod. Continued on next page.

LOOKING BACK.....IN THE REARVIEW MIRROR

Continued from last page. Karen & Randy Siegel who work with us at Rodrian Insurance came in their '71 Camaro and other co-workers came as spectators, so we had a nice group of folks there to enjoy the evening.

Thanks to Dave Boucher for bringing the club banner and Sarge for proudly displaying it on his car.

Nine club members attended with six Model A's and three vintage cars:

Sandi & Bob Davisson – A
Marilyn & Mike Brojanac – A
Jan & Roger Olson – A

Congregational Home

By Dave Heunink

The weather was perfect for the event at the Congregational Home in Brookfield on August 12th. There were 9 Model A's that arrived with their owners. It was a night of good food, good conversation with good friends and their cars. The residents where given a tour around all the cars that where there and asked many questions regarding our vehicles. Many shared stories of the Model A's they had owned.

In attendance were: Jerry Carlin, Eugene Taurman, Carl and Lu Doro, Bob and Barb Sonnen, Bob and Sandi Davisson, Roger and Jan Olson, Don Reiff, Joe Rossbach and Dave Huenink.
