August President's Notes

Hello Model Aers!

July was an exciting month for the Rozman family! Our oldest daughter Chloe has entered the hobby! She had been expressing some interest in learning more and was stepping to the plate for some real work (She her removing tires in this little video). We ended up coming across an original 1930 coupe abandoned restoration project and brought it home just a few weeks ago.

Chloe will certainly have plenty of learning opportunities, because this coupe was torn down to just about every last nut and bolt! I suppose what better way to truly see what an A is made of! I suppose those learning moments will be some of her videos LOL!

Looking back, I think about my first Model A and all I learned working on it. I remember late nights after work and weekends grinding or replacing things. I drove that car everywhere, so long as the weather permitted.

I think that all of us can pull out some pretty special memories of our first Model A! That's why we're here, because some how A-ing clicked with us.

I hope everyone takes some time to tell their first model A story to someone. Maybe even email us a picture of you and your first Model A for us to post in the newsletter

Take care everyone, and I'll see you at the Picnic!

Your President,

Kate Rozman

The orchard was established in 1950 and they have over 4000 dwarf and semi-dwarf fruit trees. They grow many different types of produce such as apples, grapes, quince and pears. Items that can be fermented in to alcohol. At the peak of the season they have 40 varieties of apples available. Brightonwoods Orchard has over 200 heirloom apple varieties and the apple selection change's weekly, depending on the ripening and picking schedule. Brightonwoods' emphasis is on preserving existing heirloom varieties and growing standard and newer commercial varieties. Apple cider is also made on site and is available. We'll be able to walk around the orchard, visit the apple barn, and stroll through the wooded trails. They are especially beautiful when the leaves are changing color

A collaborative venture with AeppelTreow Winery began in 2001 and they are also on site. We'll be able to stop there also. AeppelTreow Winery & Distillery is a producer of small batch cider, perry and spirits. The winery specializes in apple and pear fruit wines, hard ciders and dessert wines. The meet included countryside tours, car games, buffet dinner, dance, car and costume judging and awards.

September 7-8 Rank & Son Antique – Classic Car Show. Last year police estimated attendance at approx. 130,000 people. There was a sky diving exhibition, along with other entertainment and a huge display of army guns and equipment. Car owners received two tickets for beer and brats and breakfast was free coffee and sweet rolls.

Ferd Linde had surgery at Milwaukee County hospital and John Nalley will be home for about a month before he can return to work.

Clip on Some Elegance

By Sherry Winkinhofer, Northwest Missouri Model A Ford Club

"When a woman can't afford a new dress, she buys new costume jewelry to brighten up her old ones." I found this quote in a 1930 article discussing fashion. To me, it highlights the austerity of many of the working-class women of the Model A years. While a working woman could not afford to buy a new dress frequently, she could be a master at changing her looks with accessories. Dress clips were a new fashion embellishment that could be purchased inexpensively to bring new life to last season's wardrobe.

Jim's Tech Tip by Jim Cannon

Installing Fuses On Your Model A

Just to prevent a small electrical problem from becoming an even bigger one, many of us like to install a fuse on our Model A. You've all seen them, the little fuse holder that mounts to the side of the starter switch, holds a little glass fuse, and connects to the solid yellow wire. A great idea, but it has a few weaknesses.

First, an open fuse holder like this will eventually corrode as it is exposed to the elements. Oil mist and road grime will collect it and give you a bad connection. Vibration from the engine will loosen up the little metal clips that the fuse snaps down into. With time, this little fuse holder becomes a trouble spot in your electrical system. I've seen it several times on tours.

It is possible to purchase a molded fuse holder with a waterproof cover that snaps securely over the fuse (see photo). It uses a flat, blade-type fuse that can be obtained in any amp rating you need. They work on 6 volt or 12 volt cars. You splice it into the wiring harness and solder the connections (not just crimp them on). Cover with woven loom to hide everything except the fuse itself and it disappears (mostly). Much better.

I'm often asked where to put the fuse. If you only put it on the solid yellow wire at the starter switch, if it ever blows while driving, your engine will die right there. This might be at a very bad time to have no power, when you really need your engine running. It could be dangerous.

Most shorts that would cause a fuse to blow are in the lights or the horn. I recommend putting fuses in the two solid yellow wires coming off of the generator (alternator) that go to the headlight switch and the horn. If one of these fuses blows, you won't have lights or a horn, but your engine will still run. Figure out how much current your lights draw and put a fuse about 25% bigger than that on that wire. The same with horn wire. If you accidentally use too small of a fuse, it will blow and you replace it with one of a slightly higher amp rating.

Once you have installed these first two fuses, then you add a third fuse to the yellow wire coming off of the starter switch. Use a fuse amperage here that is a bit bigger than the ones you used for lights and horn. This becomes your protection against a really big problem in all of the wires besides lights and horn (like ammeter and associated wires). This fuse should not blow if you have a short in the lights or horn, so the engine will keep running and you can limp home (without horn or stop lights -- be careful). But if you have a major short, one capable of starting a fire, the 3rd fuse will blow and save your car.

This is one of my more complicated Tech Tips. I hope it helps your car stay safe and reliable. I'm always open to feedback. Have a Model A Day! Jim

Looking back on the last tour....

The Smell the Roses and Taste the Beer Tour-

Well, our Model A Ford Club had a PERFECT day for the tour! Sunny, nice temperature and low humidity was the order of the day. Over a dozen cars joined us for a short and leisurely tour around the farms and waterways in the Delavan area. First stop was Doug Amon's Smell the Roses Farm. After Mr. Amon's wife passed at the age of 44, he decided to grow roses in her memory. Well, that hobby turned into a rose garden with over 400 rose bushes, a water fall, a small pond with Koi fish, lilly pads, a bridge and a gazebo. Thousands of people visit each year to enjoy his roses. Mr Amon's roses even won Best of Show at the Walworth County Fair! Thank you Mr. Amon for sharing your roses with us, and also for the beautiful 2021 calendars with beautiful photos of your roses featured on each month.

Next stop was just a hop and a sip down the road. Its the Duesterbeck Brewing Company set in the country side on a 150 year old farmstead. There we each enjoyed a flight of tasty craft beers, some pizza, GIANT pretzels and good time with our fellow Model Aers!

Thank you Jan Olson and Kate Rozman for another great day in the A.

As 4evr,

Dave Rozman
