Road Trip to Gilmore Car Museum

Latest Update!!!

Progress continues with our May tour to the Gilmore Museum in Hickory Corners. We have the Badger Ferry booked for their opening day crossing on May 12th. All participants will be rendezvousing at the Gearheads Warehouse in Sheboygan at 10 am on the 12th. We'll have coffee and sweet rolls, plus a chance to "freshen up". Once everyone is accounted for, we will head north to Manitowoc for a quick burger and arrive at the Badger Dock no later than 1 p.m. for loading. The boat departs at 2 pm and arrives in Ludington at 7 p.m. (eastern time). It takes about ½ to unload from the Ferry, then its off to the "House of Flavors" Restaurant, <https://www.houseofflavorsrestaurants.com> where they serve great family meals and feature 40 flavors of Ice Cream!

As of this writing, we have narrowed down lodging for the night of the 12th in Ludington, will have more in February. Friday the 13th we depart for the Gilmore Museum, about 140 miles. We picked a winner of a weekend! They are planning to have vintage "Boats in the Barn," A Vintage Travel Trailer Rally, and for you aficionados, there is also a Craft Beer and Wine tasting! Tickets may be purchased on site or in advance, $14/day. We have a confirmed booking at the Baymont by Wyndham Battle Creek Downtown, 182 West Van Buren, Battle Creek, Michigan 49017 +1-269-565-0500 Rates are $109/night plus 11% Tax Friday and Saturday. Sunday rate $70 plus 11% tax. I would encourage you to book NOW as Gilmore will have much going on and you may not get a room otherwise! Mention the WI Model A Ford Club to get the special rate!

We will spend Friday afternoon, Saturday and possibly Sunday touring this immense campus, so much to see and do! Monday, we will drive back to Ludington for an overnight stay, arriving at the Docks Tuesday the 17th of May at 8 a.m. SHARP! We will arrive in Manitowoc at approximately 12ish that day.

Once again, if you are considering touring with us, I highly encourage you to contact me via email to put you on the list for the Badger and a count for lodging and the museum. There will be an April 1st deadline as the Ferry requires bookings done by the 10th of April.

Deb and I hope to see your smiling faces and beautiful car at this once in a lifetime event!

CRAZY EMAILS AND TEXTS

We've apparently been hacked, copied, scammed or what ever you call it. Emails going out from Mike that are NOT FROM MIKE. Texts from Mike or Karen asking for gift cards or for you to call them to help out. Its been crazy! The board of directors is NOT asking for anyone to mail gift cards to veterans groups, or other groups. If there was to be such a drive it would be in the newsletters.

When you get questionable emails, check the email address behind the persons name. If it looks out of place, it usually is. (See below) You can always check the roster or the front inside page of the newsletters for the boards correct information.

Presidents message:

Hello from Sunny Georgia,

Many of you knew Sue and I would be gone for the month of February to give this “snowbird” thing a try. So far so good. We’ve had decent weather, which sure beats the cold and snowy weather back home.

Monday we took a run over to Louisiana to see some of the Bonnie and Clyde historical sites. The funeral home of the embalming is long gone, but a small park in its place. Very small ol town of Arcadia, where the folks are welcoming. Drove a littler further to see the Bonnie and Clyde Ambush Museum. Nice, had many of the articles from local newspapers, pictures, etc. From there we drove 7.5 miles to the actual site where they were gunned down. Crazy to think how that was done back in the day, staged a broke down truck along the side of the road, waited in the bushes until the drove up and then blasted away. Out in the middle of no where. Nothing there but trees and a marker to tell you where it happened.

I see by the advanced timing we are in need of outdoor event hosts. Anything you’d like to tour? Anything you'd like to see again? Give Mark or any board member a call if you are interested in hosting. I can remember back when we joined the club some “tours” were just a nice ride through different part of the area on back roads and we’d end up at a park for snacks and beverages.

Currently there is no host for the first outdoor tour of April. Need any help with planning a tour, give a holler, there are plenty of seasoned members that can help steer you in the right direction. See you in March!

Mike

Placemats Commemorating the Club’s Anniversary

As you may recall, at the August 2021 picnic we asked everyone to arrive in their model A’s for a grand picture of all. The Banquet Committee then took that picture, enhanced it, embellished it, enlarged it, duplicated it, and laminated each one. The result is a beautifully laminated placemat commemorating our club’s 65th anniversary. Individuals who attended the banquet each received a placemat to take home. The original quantity we had made up is exhausted, however, additional ones can be ordered. Contact Karen Schmiechen (kschmiechen@att.net; 262-544-5005) if you would like to place an order for the placemats. The cost would be $3 for each one. Thanks to Bob Schmiechen for designing the placemat from the original picture.

Wisconsin Model A Reunion

July 29-30-31, 2022

www.wirapidsmodela.com

Plan now to join us for this Annual Model A event, that brings Model A enthusiasts together from across the state and area. This is the 60th year of this event.

The event begins on Friday afternoon with registration, followed by a fund-raising auction and fresh-popped popcorn later that evening.

Saturday starts with the Shoe Box Swap Meet, Technical Seminar and Ski Race. A pot luck lunch will be served around noon, followed by a Model A Tour around the Rapids area. After the tour, there will be Kids' Games, Hubley Derby and the start of the Basket Raffle Saturday will wrap up with the Dance, where the winners of the fund-raising Basket Raffle will be announced.

Sunday brings the car games, Chapter Team Events and Rolling Pin Toss. The weekend will wrap up with the awards ceremony and raffle drawing.

As you fight cabin fever this winter, remember that those 'no-longer needed' items would make great donations for the auction. Model A and non-Model A items are accepted. Just remember no junk, and leave the broken stuff at home.

For the Basket Raffle, we are asking each club to donate a $30 basket, fitting a Men's, Women's, or Kid's theme. Participants purchase raffle tickets for this, and place the tickets in the baskets that they would like to win. Winner is determined by a random drawing. Clubs may donate more than one basket, individuals may also donate a basket. Look on Pinterest for some good basket ideas.

For the Sunday Raffle this year, it is now a 50/50 Raffle. Purchase tickets for a chance to win half the money raised the ticket sales. No limit to how many tickets you can buy.

All money raised by the Auction, Basket Raffle and Raffle goes towards offsetting the cost of next year's event, helping to keep this event affordable for everyone.

Please wear your club issued name tag over the weekend, so we can learn each other's names. For those that do not have a name tag, one may be borrowed from Registration.

For participants that motel, remember that the Rapids Area is a busy place, and rooms can go fast. Call and make your motel reservations as soon as you can.

You can save $5 if you pre-register. The registration form is on the web site at the top of this article. You must be a registered participant to partake in any Award Issuing events at the Reunion.

For any questions or more details, see the Reunion web site or contact the Reunion at wirapidsmodela@gmail.com.

She will provide more information at the March general meeting.

'A' Trip Back to Highlight Women's History Month

Women Who Changed the Automobile Industry

Since March is Women's History Month, we thought it would be the perfect time to highlight how influential women have changed the car industry throughout history. When it comes to the history of cars, people tend to think of Henry Ford, Karl Benz, Walter P. Chrysler, Horace Dodge, or other men whose names are behind the most recognizable car brands on the market today.

However, it's often overlooked that many of the car features we use and enjoy today were in fact invented by women. Here are 9 ways women have shaped the car industry we know today.

Car Heaters 1893

Next time you crank the heat in your car, remember to thank Margaret Wilcox. Margaret was a mechanical engineer who invented the first car heater in 1893. The design used an opening from the engine that released hot air into the cab of a vehicle. It wasn't perfect, and it isn't the same design that we use today. However, she came up with the basic system on which modern car heaters are based.

Windshield Wipers 1903 & 1917

After taking a trip to New York City and witnessing trolley drivers stopping to get out and clear snow or rain from the windows, Mary Anderson knew there had to be a better way. Her design used a manual lever that operated a wiper from inside the car. Charlotte Bridgwood improved on Mary Anderson's original manual design and in 1917 patented the first electrically-operated automatic windshield wipers. Named the "Storm Windshield Cleaner," this device used rollers (not blades) to clear off a windshield. However, the design was not a commercial success and her patent expired several years later. Similar to Anderson's story, it was only after she lost her product rights that the windshield wiper design was widely adopted and became a standard feature on vehicles.

Turn Signals 1914

Florence Lawrence, daughter of Charlotte Bridgwood noted above, is best known as "the first movie star." You probably didn't know that she also created the technology for the first turn signals in vehicles. Her design was for a mechanical signaling arm that indicated the direction you were turning and was operated with a button inside the vehicle. She also made a stop sign that would activate when the brakes were pressed. Sadly, she never got a patent for her design and the idea was quickly snatched up by others in the industry, leaving her without any credit or compensation.

GPS and Wi-Fi 1942

If you've ever plugged an address into your smart phone or connected to your Wi-Fi enabled car, you can thank Hedy Lamar for inventing the technology behind it. Yes, the same Hedy Lamar who starred in films like Algiers and Samson and Delilah designed the wireless transmission technology that made GPS and Wi-Fi possible. She was inspired to create the technology to help the Allies after German u-boats began attacking civilian ships during World War II. Lamar learned that radio-controlled torpedoes – an emerging technology in naval warfare – could easily be jammed and set off course by the enemy. Interestingly enough, she already had some knowledge of torpedoes from her first husband, an Austrian arms manufacturer. Lamar and friend George Antheil invented a jam-resistant frequency-hopping signal for use in Allied torpedoes to keep enemies from decoding messages. They received a patent for their "Secret Communication System" in 1942, and although the invention wasn't immediately implemented, it did lay the groundwork for technology used to maintain security for military communications, cell phones, and more.

Non-Reflective Glass

Thanks to scientist and inventor Katharine Blodgett, windshield glass doesn't have a glare, making vehicles much safer. After earning a Ph.D. in Physics at Cambridge, Blodgett became the first woman hired by General Electric. While there, she invented a way to make glass surfaces non-reflective. Her technology was used for camera lenses, movie projectors, submarine periscopes, eyeglasses, computer screens and, of course, windshields.

Brake Pads 1888

Not only did Bertha Benz take the first long-distance road trip in a car, she also invented brake pads. If the name Benz sounds familiar, it's because Bertha's husband Karl Benz invented the first patented automobile, which later led to the creation of the Mercedes automobile and the Mercedes-Benz brand name. Bertha helped promote the car, or "motorwagen", as it was called then, by undertaking a 66-mile journey with her sons to her mother's house. Along the trip, she realized the need for brake pads to help the brakes operate to their full potential.

Purchasing Decisions

The automobile industry may be seen as a "man's world," given that 95 percent of the National Automobile Dealers Association members are men. However, women purchase 52 percent of cars sold and influence 85 percent of all car buying decisions. According to Maddy Dychtwald, author of Influence: How Women's Economic Power Will Transform Our World for the Better, 74 percent of women still feel like their automobile needs are misunderstood by marketers. That's a pretty important statistic, considering women are also the fastest growing segment of buyers for both new and used cars.

Supercar Designs 2017

Most of the time, when women have a hand in designing cars it has to do with the interior features. It's not often that women design the exterior of a vehicle, let alone a supercar. Michelle Christensen is the first woman to lead a supercar exterior design team. The Acura NSX has been in the works for years, but was released as part of Acura's 2017 lineup.

Executive Decisions 2014

In 2014, Mary Barra became the CEO of General Motors, making her the first woman to ever lead a major auto company. She took the job amid GM's ignition switch scandal and pulled the company into a strong comeback. She's now looking to GM's future, which will include rolling out more electric cars and breaking into the autonomous vehicle market, in addition to the company's regular cars and trucks.
